Lives Of North American Pilgrims The Old Folks Home (formerly The Rocking Chair Bookshop) is a wonderful bookstore in downtown Dundas Ontario, serving the area for over 50 years. They are located on Market Street. They have many wonderful book nooks for you to browse and I highly recommend you get there! The two main owners have decided to move on so the new owner, Rebecca, will be taking over as of January 1st. They will continue to operate with the same hours, and the location, despite the name change. They are looking for a new name to go with the new ownership and I hope the new owners pick a name that is not too common and not too specific to one area. But if you have heard the name "The Old Folks Home" you will know exactly what I am talking about! So if you are in the Dundas area, make sure you stop in and take a look at the new owners!! Other Dundas blogs My Recent Updates My collection of writing has been slowly creeping up, and I have several very exciting projects I am working on. The first is a collection of short stories that I have been working on for some time. The second is a short history of Dunkin Donuts and hot chocolate, from its birth to today. I am planning on calling it "Kris's Kookbooks" - so feel free to suggest names to me ? And finally there is a plan to write a story that I have been planning for quite some time. It is the story of my grandmother. While I have only just begun to write this book, I hope to have it completed and published in the next few months. There are going to be changes to my blog, and perhaps some small changes to this site as well. So I have opened up the "About Me" page as a free guest blog. If you are not a member of my facebook or my blog please let me know and I will be happy to invite you over. I have been working on a project for a while, and it is nearing completion. I have spent the last three years compiling information on the many religious groups that have been in Dundas. I have been collecting their records, and their history and I am very excited to be able to announce that this project is almost complete
