security reviews? I'm responsible for securing our software and wanted to know what's the best practice to do security reviews (pen testing, security audits)? In what I've seen so far, we've seen plain old manual penetration tests (McAfee/Cenzic style) and also some automated testing. For instance, some companies run the following test suite: SQL injection testing XSS testing Image inclusion testing Directory travers
